

Energy Efficiency

ASSESSMENTS

Make the first step to savings easy.

When tackling energy efficiency, knowing where to begin is an important first step. Trying to figure out what to change, how and by when can get a little overwhelming. That's where we come in. Our teams draw on decades of experience in energy efficiency to help your customers identify focus areas, formulate a budget-friendly plan, and manage your energy efficiency goals—online, in-person or wherever you are.

Building an energy-efficient future for everyone

Getting connected with energy experts that can accurately and comprehensively assess each of your customer's unique energy needs is the first step in becoming an energy-efficient community.

1 Standard in-person assessments

Standard assessments give homes and businesses of any size a complete picture of how they use energy, as well as custom recommendations from efficiency experts on how to make reduction improvements affordably.

2 Technical in-person facility assessments

For larger facilities with more complex needs, we offer technical, in-depth and on-site assessments that deliver a comprehensive understanding of your energy use and how to reduce it.

3 Virtual assessments

Virtual energy assessments help people connect with trained specialists to complete a full evaluation of their energy habits and approve customers for any necessary upgrades, all from their phone or tablet.

4 Analytics

Each of our energy assessments integrate third-party and internal data to provide participants with personalized next steps and actionable suggestions that generate savings year round without ever having to see the building.

Our energy efficiency portfolios include:

- ✓ Residential utility customers
- ✓ Commercial and industrial facilities
- ✓ Low and moderate income
- ✓ Small businesses and government
- ✓ Midstream incentives
